

Online Lecture Series by Pedro Sarsama:

The Sojourn of Israel: Scriptural and Historical Roots of the Contemporary Orthodox Church

Every Saturday, beginning Saturday, July 18, until Saturday, November 28, from 9:00 am to 9:50 am, with an optional Q&A to follow at 9:55 am.

Christ is in our midst!

The lecture series that was planned for Lent was delayed due to the coronavirus situation. We're excited to offer the lecture series at this time despite distance. It is my fervent prayer that at some point we will be able to continue this in person; until then, I am thankful that we are able to meet together digitally using the Webex platform.

The Sojourn of Israel: Scriptural and Historical Roots of the Contemporary Orthodox Church is a lecture series that surveys scripture and Church history from Creation to the present to provide an overview of the relationship between God and the Orthodox Church, and how that has unfolded over time.

The class is currently broken up into two parts each time it is offered. The first part is a 50 minute lecture followed by a 5 minute break. The second part is a Q&A that will last as long as attendees would like. These two sections will be on separate Webex events due to time constraints when using the free Webex service; we may revisit this format soon, so stay tuned.

Please use the following link to register for the class. After you register, the confirmation page will provide the appropriate link to join the lecture.
